Maggy, Morgon And Midas

~~"Faster, faster" shouted~~

"Faster, faster" shouted Morgon as they scrambled over the twigs. It was the middle of the night and the moon shone on the river. Maggy saw how gentle the water looked and decided to feel the calm water. The second she touched the water she was pulled back a step. Suddenly, Morgon spotted a door in a tree open, and inside was an animal cage.

"What's this?" asked Morgon ~~cautiously~~ cautiously.
"I don't know let's see?" replied Maggy curiously.

Slowly they got closer, and closer. As they did so Morgon started to notice something small and brown. Slowly they started to see an animal scuttle around... it was a rabbit.

A "little, brown, baby, rabbit. It was the poor thing ^{it's} hungry, thirsty and wet come on let's dry you, Morgon explained "oh and have this too."

Adventure in the gloomy desert

"Come on," shouted Connor, with a ~~gusto~~ giggle to his friend, Harry. He pressed a button and his back pack turned into a dirt bike. Suddenly, Harry saw something in a dark, scary and cold cave. "Look," ~~he~~ ~~said~~ said.

"Wow," cried a voice behind them.

Connor shouted "A alien." Harry ~~it~~ turned around then ~~to~~ back away.

"run!" Harry said, as he grabbed the ~~them~~ they saw in ~~the~~ ~~cat~~ cave.

As they ran the alien ~~followed~~. He had one eye, fang like ~~teeth~~ teeth and he was fast too.

"~~Hey~~ hurry up" boomed Hank as he staggered over the sand dunes. Whilst taking his time, Jack followed. ~~At~~ Within minutes, the two boys at a sand pile and began searching for trinkets and treasures. Silently, they ~~peered into the silky, muddy sand.~~ they peered around the town. They could see sand made houses, big bulgy rocks and slimy seaweed. In between the sands, something moved. "Hey, what's this"? said Jack. "I don't know, but let's find out" said Hank. Jack grabbed it then... The ~~2~~ boys gasped, it was energy drinks and the label read: Warning, too much of this could lead to ~~supernatural~~ Supernatural side effects. "Stop right there"!! said an ominous character. "you will not leave ~~until~~ until I get those drinks"!! "Run" said Hank. Hank gripped Jack's arm. They hid in a freddie

rickety, old sandhouse. Suddenly, the ominous character multiplied. "you can't escape me"!! Said multiple voices. Inside the sandhouse it was dark, damp and gloomy. Jack felt a shiver run down his spine (even know Jack wasn't the scaredy cat). All hairs were standing on end.

"Arrrggghh, it's useless, I'll ~~never~~ never get those drinks" said the ominous character. "Quick

"Quick let's run" said Jack. "yeah" so they ran back to their house.

At first, dad didn't ~~believe~~ believe them, so they decided to show him the label and told him about a mine shaft that ~~was~~ disappeared. He reckoned it was from that. The boys could imagine the headlines: long lost drinks found by ~~kids~~ kids. and there was a reward for that too!!!

Adventure at the Cave

"Come on," shouted Elsie as she was in the cave. Ellie followed quietly. They could see chipped rocks, black bats and scurrying bugs. Elsie saw something. It was in between two sharp rocks. It was a muddy black box. When they opened the box it creaked open. The two girls gasped when the lid was opened. There was diamonds!

Suddenly, an old scruffy lady screamed at the two girls. Her dog barked at them as loud as it could. Elsie shut the lid, picked it up and passed it to Ellie. They started to run away and they were falling and struggling.

As they hid behind the rock the old lady started to look for them. It was pitch black, there was little rocks on the floor and it was dusty. The lady came back in the cave and shone a torch around. Ellie held ~~El~~ Elsie's hand. They both shivered. The lady had black curly hair, they could smell her rotten breath and saw her purple dress.

All at once there was a giggle. "Here dog I found them." yelled the old lady. "You know those girls have gotten something." said the lady. Elsie had sweat coming down her head. Ellie was getting goosebumps. After a while, the lady was not in the cave. Even though there was nobody in the cave they ran home.

Immediately, they ran home. When they were home their Mum or Dad were not home. The girls shut the door and ran up to their room and hid the diamonds. But when they turned around the old lady was there! She had a bat and was ready to fight over the diamonds.

Adventure in the cave

"Chop chop," said Kamila "I'm coming," said

Elsie as they were playing in a bright and shiny cave but they also had to look for some shiny rocks. After a while, Kamila and Elsie were very energetic. As it got darker and darker the girls went deeper and deeper into the cave. In the distance, the girls could see something hidden in a deep mine. It was glowing, very shiny and brighter than the sun.

Immediately, there was a figure stood dead silent. The strange shadow came in the light. It was a old woman. She had blood shot eyes, finger nails like razor blades and teeth like daggers. She looked horrifying. Kamila gasped then hid. The horrid woman started to click her fingers to the beat of the clock.

The old woman disappeared for a ~~couple~~ couple of minutes then re-appeared behind them. Kamila felt a shiver run down her spine then Elsie's stomach started to curdle and they both started to shiver. THERE WAS NO WAY OUT!

ELsie was getting very scared so she grabbed the crystal pulled kamila and zommed off hidden but the old woman was chasing them because she was old ~~she~~ she was alot slower. Unlucky, she had godd eye sight so she could spot them easily. Luckily, they got away.

Finally, the girls got home but their parents weren't there they thought, where are they? But by a blink of an eye the old woman was stood there her eyes were furious red then a smirk rised on her face not only that she had a bat in her hands looking brave and ready to use it.

Adventure in the woods

Amelia and Jessica were playing in the woods. Amelia was pretending to be a miner. All of a sudden, a baby was bawling. They were about a lot of things. In the cave, on the ground was a baby! Next to it was a stack of rotting firewood, a pile of gold, and a note. It was made out of magazine letters. "Take care of her." The note said. Shivers automatically went up Jessica's spine. Amelia was so spooked that she grabbed the baby, note, and gold and ran back to the woods. Jessica screamed for her to come back but Amelia refused, "no it is to scary for me and her." Amelia shouted back.

In the distance, was screaming villagers and a crying lady. Jessica and Amelia felt heat on their back. Carefully, they tried to get a closer look and noticed they were holding signs and pitchforks. The Signs said "give it to us."

In that magazine letters again. Amelia whispered "Anxiously" what is going on?"
Suddenly, Jessica saw that either they were ~~running~~ running towards them without knowing it or the villagers were coming at them. There were cackles and screams. Luckily, something was holding them back.

They could see fire burning and it was spreading for the village. While they had the chance, they ran for their lives. They ran towards a lake not knowing the dangers ahead of. As they entered the cave sewage system, they saw blood covering the walls, dark creepy skelintons. Suddenly, they heard yelling villagers. Jessica grabbed Amelia's arm and screamed "Run!" Amelia was shocked by this behaviour but agreed they should run. Luckily, they came to a 2-sided cave they ran through and ran all the way home. But no one in their family was there.

shouted Maggy as Morgon ran in faster than ever the girls were in a tree den. Only a speck of light could show through the fallen trees, droplets of rain kept peaking through the little holes and shouts could be heard from outside

"Let me in, let me in!" Shouted the woman in a deep voice. Maggy and Morgon remained hidden and did not let her in. Slowly, the woman got mad and started to shout "Aaaaarrgggh LET ME IN, LET ME IN, AAAARRGH" Repeatedly until she gave up and Maggy and Morgon slowly heard footsteps leave and ran home as fast as they could even though no one was there.

When they got home their Mum was surprised when she saw the ~~the~~ Rabb Midas and so she asked where she had come from. Maggy and Morgan told their Mum everything. And so their Mum said "you can keep ~~the~~ ~~the~~ Midas but you must take care of her yourself."

Maggy and Morgan were overjoyed when they heard that they could keep Midas. And Midas ~~grew~~ grew up to be a lovely, caring, little Rabbit.

Written by Ollie

Hank was planting a tree in the garden when he found an old wooden box full of gold. He saw a red glow and he heard a humming ship. Hank hid in a tree and he saw a scary pirate with a glowing red eye. Pirate Tricky has sharp teeth, red hair, and a stop sign.

Pirate Tricky slaps the sign on the ground because he was angry. He shakes the tree but Hank holds on tight. And Hank falls out the tree. Tricky chases Hank down to the sea.

Hank escaped underwater. He had the gold.

Adventure in Creepop Castle

It was a dark and stormy night, which meant it was the perfect night for the policeman to come and hide the gold. He hid in the castle with the gold before the clock struck midnight. The next day, two children came upon the ancient, ruined castle. They both stepped inside and walked down the big stone steps. "Look a dungeon!" said Max. He stepped towards it with Chelsea stood behind him. They both fit behind the bars. Just then, Chelsea saw a light. They stepped towards it. It was a chest. When she pressed down the metal catch it was full of gold! They couldn't let anyone get to it.

"What should we do with this..." Before Chelsea could even say "gold" a policeman showed up ~~at~~ at the shiny, metal bars. He wore a ragged jumpsuit, small boots that only went up to his ankle and a hat that was covered in mud stains. And it was not long at all till he yelled, "Give me that gold or you will be trapped in this castle FOREVER!" They both gasped in horror. What were the two children going to do about all this.

Max shouted "Chelsea your the one with the box, answer him"! But Chelsea was too scared to even speak to Max, so he snatched the gold off her and gave it to the policeman. And then yelled "RUN"! So they got out and called 999. When they got there the police said "Here take this gun, we have something more serious to deal with". So when the policeman came out he pulled the trigger and soon the policeman was dead.

Rory and Jill ran away

Rory and Jill were walking through their favourite field with lots of bushes and flowers. ~~Searching~~

After a while, from playing in the field they wanted to play one more game of hide and seek. Rory hid in a bush but he saw a sack with sparkles concealed on it. At first he didn't know what it was so he showed Jill. Jill was so excited that they found a Sparkling Sack! "Where did you find it Rory?" Jill said jumping up and down. "In a bush," Rory said. "Wow! Isn't the best spot but just wow!" said Jill. So Rory and Jill opened the sack.

It was full of diamonds and gold and pearls and they weren't even on the beach. "Oh my goodness!" shouted Rory as loud as he could. "We're going to be rich for life!" laughed Rory and Jill as loud as they could at the same time. Both of them couldn't calm down.

Jill was still really excited but as far as her eyes could see she saw someone coming, and of a blink of an eye a scary wizard holding a large staff in front of Rory and Jill. "Give me back my sack of diamonds!" screamed the wizard. "Aaaa!" screamed Rory and Jill. "Yes you better run children and give me back my sack of diamonds!" screamed the wizard running after them. Rory and Jill hid behind a tree and stayed there for a while.

After a while, the scary wizard was close looking and smelling for ~~any~~ for any loud or quiet noises.

The Sack of Mystery

⁶⁶ Quick said Lilly Rushing into to her Forlout Field⁹⁹! John and Lilly picked up blooming flowers, and wonderful daffodils and looked at the glistening sun. Lilly had a warm smile on her face and so did John. They picked up daisy's and made daisy's chains. Until they found a sack between the grass. Cautiously they peered into the sack it had diamonds, gold eels, pearls and golden coins.

⁶⁶ Were going to be rich said Lilly jumping up and down with excitement⁹⁹.

Within minutes, they heard footsteps. Anxiously, they hid behind a fence. They had a silver running down their spine they a glimpse over and saw a old man wearing a smirg smirg

"Y said we got away" said John⁹⁹ but he got away and we need to see what he was looking for" said Lilly⁹⁹. Lilly and John ran after him. The old man made his way to a cave that Lilly and John had never seen before.

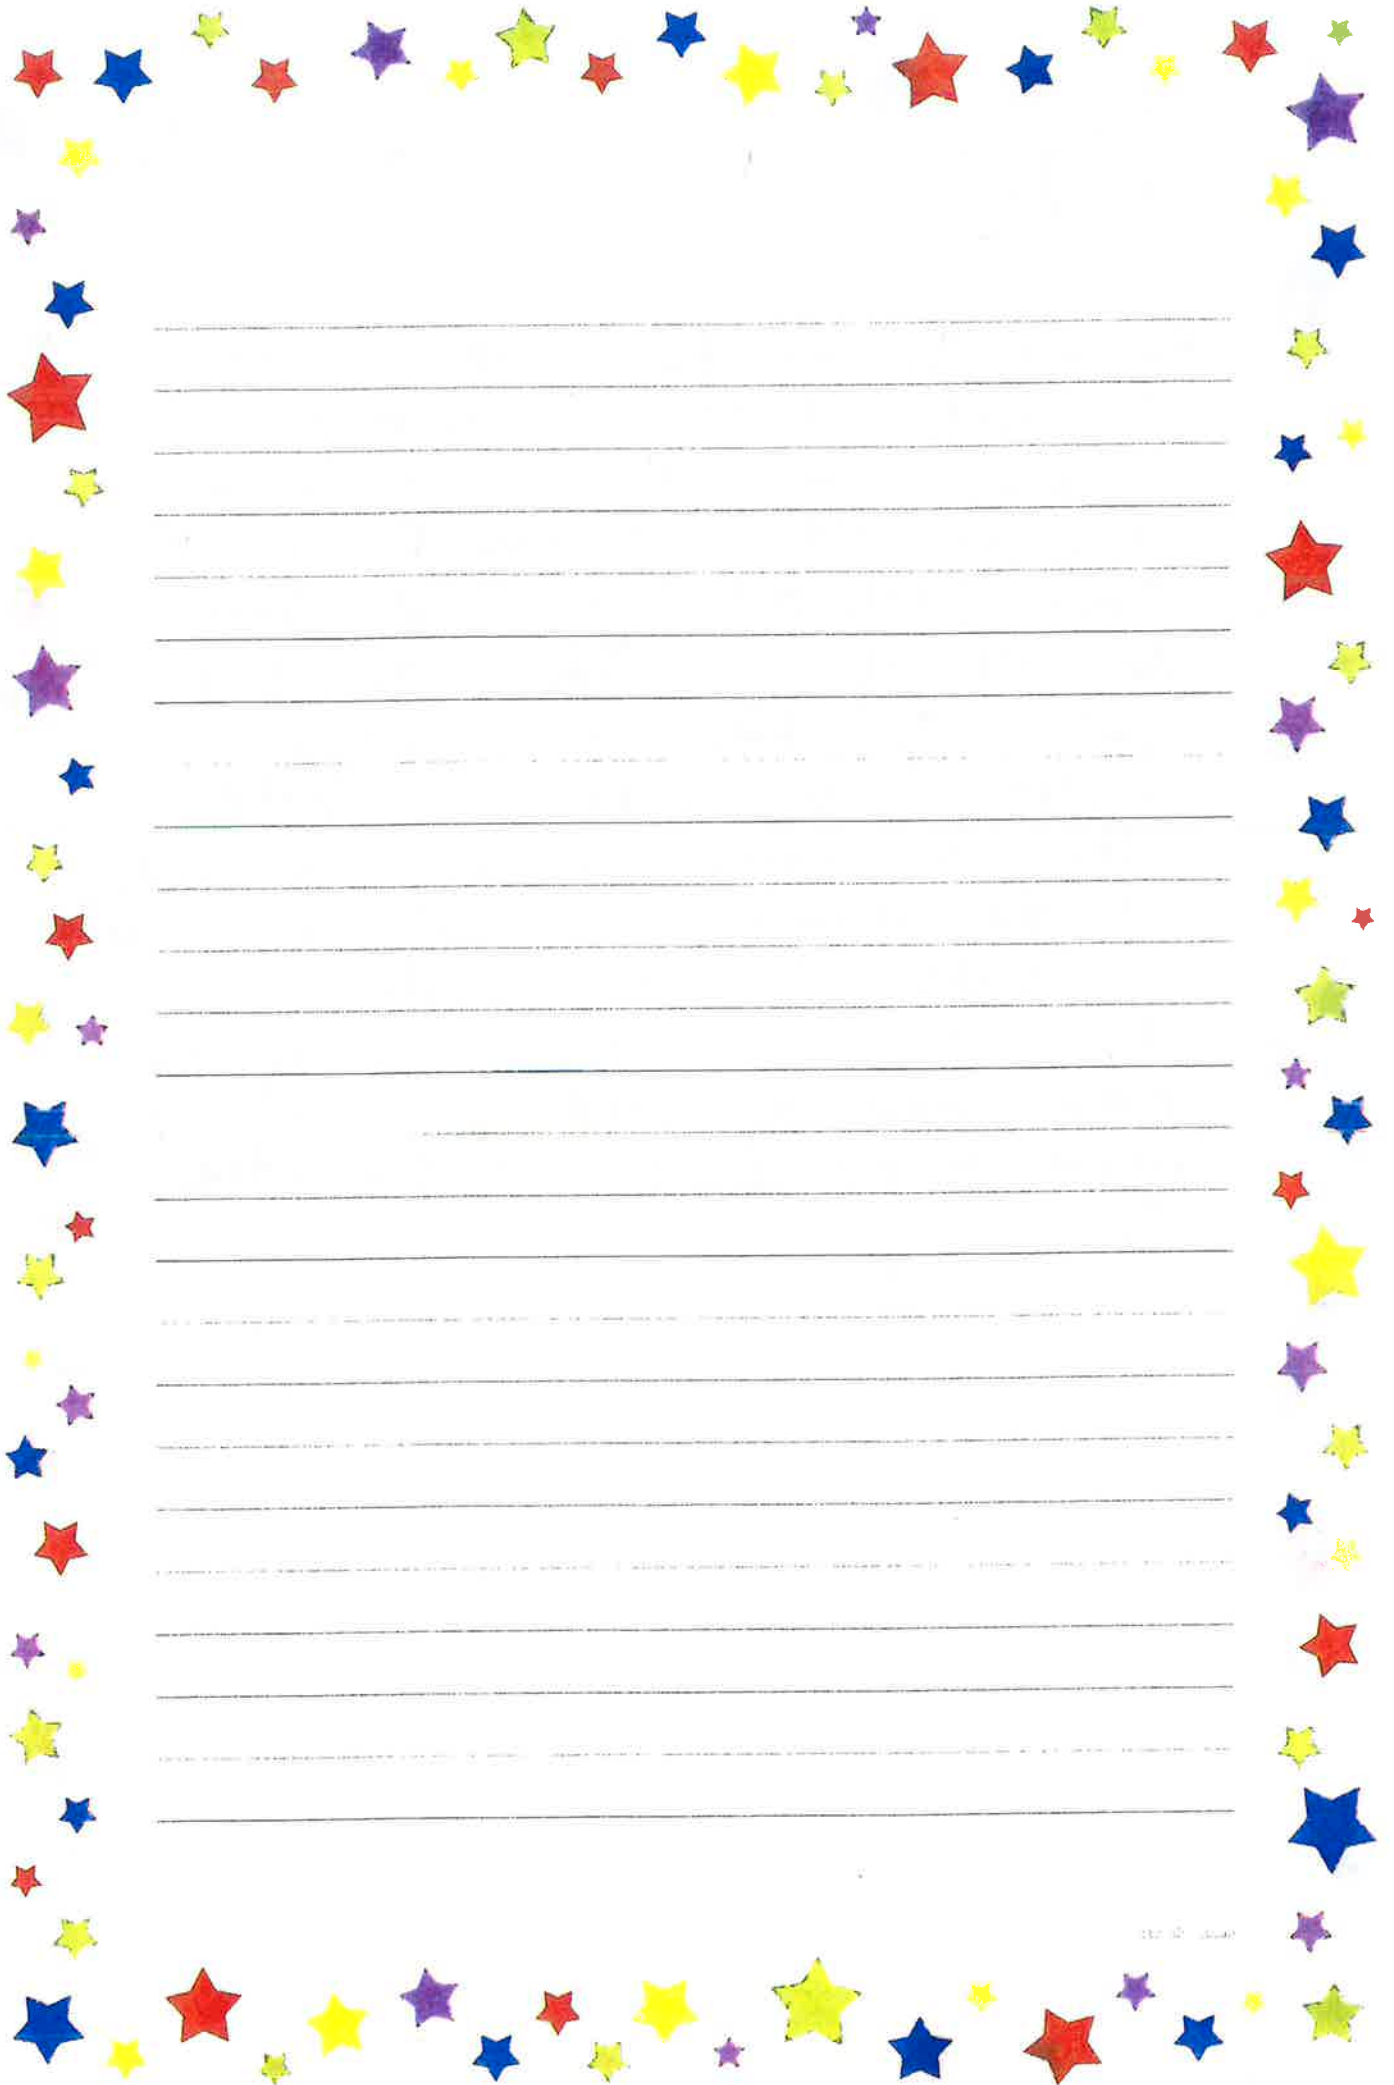

Next thing you know they were trapped in the cave it was pitch black and made a rock in front of them that they were hiding behind. Lilly's heart pounds like a kangaroo. So Tom gasped when the old man came closer Lilly gripped Tom's arm. But the old man saw them.

Lilly grabbed the rock and ran while pushing the rock out of the the way to escape. Tom ran away and helped push the rock's.

Luckily it was at a long cable and the old man couldn't run that the light go go John said. When they got home mum couldn't believe. Mum called the police when the police arrived he looked at the sack and what was inside he said it was worth millions and millions of pounds. Later on, they found out that the old man might of hid it but also stole it.

The robbery

"Come on" shouted Lennie "let's go to the woods and find some logs". Carefully John scrambled over the logs and through piles of dry crunchy leaves.

Eventually, they came upon a clearing in the trees. All around, they could see beautiful butterflies, trees waving gently in the breeze and squirrels camping in the leaves. Out of the corner of John's eye, he saw something moving.

Engulfed in brambles a small chest full of money in the dirt. All of a sudden, an old woman cackled at the children, a long bony finger pointing their way.

"Hurry up, hide in here" Lennie yelled. They quickly hid in an ivy covered abandoned bunker. John's heart raced like a Lamborghini, his eyes widened and his palms were sweaty. As still as statues, they held their breath as they heard a cackling laugh and the piercing screech of a cat.

Suddenly, the boys heard a sharp voice "come on cat, where are those horrible children?"

John and Lennie froze behind an ancient tree. Shivers ran down their spine. After a while, they heard the woman trudge off and the boys cautiously came out from behind the tree and ran home.

When they got home John and Lennie told their parents everything that had happened, they turned on the news and saw there was a robbery of a Lamborghini. So the parents called the police.

The end.

Going back to Horror woods

After finding out what happened Melony wanted to go back to the woods and catch the evil wizard. Their parents weren't sure but the police agreed. Melony, Hannah and the police set off back into Horror woods. While in, they stumbled over tree stumps. There was a clearing of mushrooms, broken branches and dangling blue bells. Hannah looked up and saw orange and brown leaves, bouncing branches and amber tree sap.

They heard whispering. "Who was that," Melony shouted. "Don't worry, it's just us." replied the police. "What are you talking about?" she said suspiciously. "Ummm... how we are going to catch the wizard." There was silence. A crunching noise was behind them and in a blink of an eye the two girls turned around just to see a squirrel. There was a sigh of relief. Echos surrounded them so they started to walk slower.

Anxiously, Melony held tight to the golden mushroom as she was now suspicious of the police. They got further away from the police and the deeper they went into the woods the more unsafe they felt. They jumped over fallen trees, listened to birds and walked on.

They came to a clearing with a pile of logs in the middle. "I think that we should look here." suggested Hannah. So they did. Just then, out jumped the wizard. A shiver ran down Melony's spine. "Ahhh!" the girls screamed. "Arrest him, quick!" Melony shouted. But the next thing they knew they were trapped in the wizard's house and knew that the police were not police. They tried to get out but they couldn't, they then saw the keys hanging on the wall.

They Melony reached for the keys through the bars and couldn't reach them so she let Hannah try and she got them! She found the keyhole and turned the key. The door swung open and they tip-toed out without the police and wizard noticing. They climbed out out the open window and ran home as fast as they could.

Puss in slippers

"Hurry, Honey" called Bunny whilst swinging the wooden gate open. "Coming Bunny!" replied Honey. Honey was not far behind and soon caught up and joined her swinging on the gate. "Mother come 'get us!" squealed the both of them. After a few games of it, they decided to play another game while mother was laying out the picnic. "What about hide and seek?" asked Honey. "Yes! I love that game, great idea sis!" answered Bunny. On that day, Bunny was wearing blonde thin pigtails, a pink and white, springy skirt with a white top and a cute bunny headband. Also on that day, Honey wore a yellow and black striped dress, brown thin pigtails and a fairy bee, antenae head-band. As they were playing hide and seek, they noticed a rather odd-looking tree with a medium-size door. "Oh Bunny! It might be the door to a fairy house!" gasped Honey. They peered in and saw a bed of bird feathers and dead birds. They stood in shock as they heard mother calling to retrieve them back to eat the picnic. Bunny and Honey ran back through the flower-enveloped field and sat munching on the yummy food mother had made. Suddenly, something moved behind them, and the sneaky crawling rustling the leaves. First, they heard the munches, then the chewing then the swallowing! They turned round and found something they only thought was available in fairytales and myths. It was the one and only... Puss in Slippers! It wore pink, fluffy, bunny slippers, had the most green, wide eyes that could fool you into doing anything, and had super-soft grey and white striped fur. Also, it had a pink face mask on his face. "Oh my! Is this really true? Pinch me!" gasped the both of them. Just then, there was rustling in the bush next to them.

Strongly, it was a bratty, spoiled girl and a slender, too much maboopmun. "Ugh! I want that cat! Give it to me!" screamed the girl stamping her foot. "N-no! Stammered Bunny. "Don't worry my little darling Bridget, I will get it," mused the selfish nun. Bridget? Bunny and Honey nearly threw up in disgust. Suddenly, Puss In Slippers spoke. "I like the fat ones, Bunny and Honey, on the other hand, you and yo nun be looking like two fat chipmunks that tried to swing off a tree but instantly broke it and fell to the ground because of how much you eat", giggled Puss In Slippers. The nun and daughter (or the fat chipmunks) gasped and charged towards them like a bull, grinding it's prey. Bunny and Honey laughed and said: "This little glazy angel can talk!" They ran towards the gate but miserably failed when they found out it was locked. "Oh no! It's locked and we can't jump the gate because it says clearly: "No Jumping Gate!" They sighed. "Should we climb a tree?" Bunny asked. "Yes, remember? Two fat chipmunks who broke the tree?" replied Puss In Slippers. They climbed quickly up a tall towering tree with a door and dead birds. "May I present you... The one and only... home tree owned by me!" said Puss In Slippers proudly. "... Oh uh... hehe... It's... Great!...", lied Bunny and Honey. Immediately, it turned into a race for the nun and daughter who were ripping each others hands off branches so they could get nearer to their prey. Suddenly, the branch snapped. The race turned into a screaming contest as they fell down into the deep depths of a pile of leaves. "Told you snatched the the future reading cats They must of suffocated as they crept down and towards the gate. A few seconds after

Death in a Dungeon
As it struck midnight, there ~~were~~ two boys named Tim 'n' Tom. They were in a dishevelled, medieval dungeon. There was solid metal jail bars everywhere, huge crumbling walls and grimy knight-armor looming over them. Excitedly, they asked their mom if they could go explore.

But this is what she said "NOOOO!" growled the angry mum while she had a red face of fury.

"Who knows what lurks in this creepy dungeon?" said the mum calm-ing down.

"Oh please, oh please!" asked the two boys while tapping their feet on the cold, hard floor.

"OK... JUST DON'T GET LOST!"

"We won't." said the boys politely as they were trembling with excitement. The two boys rushed out into the deep, dark corridors of the dungeon. As they looked around their hearts started to beat faster. They could smell a foul stench around a corner. Shivering, they peered over the dingy wall and could see rotting sewage beside a yellow finger that poked through the damp ground surrounded by a mystical-looking bubble. Creeping, closer and closer they saw that there was a shining gold ring with a powerful-looking orb on it. Shaking with fear, Tom grabbed the ring and as soon as he did he felt POWERFUL!

While admiring the magical orb on the ring, the ground started to shake violently. Tim's head started to shudder and his legs started to shiver. Suddenly a 7 foot man arose from the grubby stone floor. This man had huge boots that could shudder the world like an earthquake. He wore a pure gold which was glowing like the sun and made a deafing sound that could make someones ears bleed.

Tom felt goosebumps rise
