The jungle
 One day there was a boy called Dan who lived in a jungle. It was gloomy, ~~hot~~ hot and scary. He found a tree house and he decided to live in it. He could see leaves hear lions howling and smell seagulls. Touch shale, slime. Feel something ~~too~~ crawling on his back. Dan met a boy called tahmahma.

Luckily there was a competition to kill the evil monster. He was an angry huge beast and scary it was for money. Tahmahma said he would help. So they went to a town where the monster was. It was nice, there it shiny and quiet but some parts were grubby. The grubby parts were damp and smelly. There ~~was~~ were hats running around seagulls humanlike in bins and litter every where.

They ~~got~~ got there and straight away they started to fight the monster. It was very hard to kill the monster he ~~ke~~ kept on going for the money.
He is getting weak said tammara. They ~~+~~ kept on going.

Finally! They ~~+~~ killed the beast and the 1000000 ~~to~~ added
points and they were so rich.

They booked a machine for ever. it had a movie feature a gaming room and a big tv. Out side there was a huge hot tub a huge swimming pool and a glisaring 10 foot dining

Once upon a time, there was a man called Manta. He lived with his evil father on the outskirts of a secret planet called E-diH40-3. E-diH40-3 was cold, dark and slimy, the planet was also consumed with jungles. Manta was kept in his room most of the time, he was only allowed out when he was doing his chores. The place where he lived was the most dangerous part of the planet, so he was forced to learn survival skills. When all hope seemed lost, an ~~inv~~ invitation arrived. It was from a neighbouring planet called E-Rom-1. It said they were holding an archery competition. Unfortunately, his evil father said "you cannot go"! Manta was angry. He said "what?". After that, he was locked in his room. Luckily, his evil father was gone. So Manta had enough time to think of a way to escape after that, he was gone.

When he got there, the walls were Covered with colourful banners and the windows intricately carved into diamonds. Manta was on a winning streak until his evil father came along and spotted him. He ran until he was out of breath. He realized he still had his bow and shot the winning target. As Manta's evil father grabbed his arm, the leader of EROM-1 said, "he won, he won, he won". "WHAAT", his evil father said. ~~even one~~ everyone gasped, Manta was shocked. In the end, Manta became rich and bought himself a mansion. ~~However~~ his evil father on the other hand, had to do all the chores.

Once upon a time there was a boy called Jack. He lived in a foster home.

The foster home had sick stains on the carpet, the sound of crying children filled the house and the ~~smell~~ of dirty nappys filled the room.

Jack was always being bullied by this boy called Ollie. He'd make fun of Jack for wearing glasses. "Four eyes" Ollie called him. Ollie was a favorite though.

Later that day everyone was celebrating Jack knew what this meant it was adoption day. With glee Jack skipped around he wanted to get adopted.

When Jack got to the living

The Care Home

Once upon a time, there was a little girl called Millie. Millie lived in a tiny house but had 4 sisters called Tracey, Lily, Alex and Ash.

One day, Millie's mum decided it was too much hassle looking after four children so she called Millie into the kitchen. After she heard what her mum wanted to do she went to get packed. Her mum wanted her to go to a CARE HOME! So she said goodbye to everybody and left.

Suddenly, she saw the care home, on the outside it was all bright and colourful but when she got in it was dark and dull. When Millie went in her room she saw somebody in her bed.

The person in her bed said his name was Marco. He had been there for years. And after they talked for a while the two children became besties. Marco said there was also a mean girl called Justine.

Just then there was a knock on Millie's door.
It was JUSTINE! "What do you want?"

Then soon later, Justine was talking about how cool her room was. Millie couldn't take it anymore. She ran up and smacked Justine in the face. It was the loudest smack all the careworkers ran up and banned Millie from the adoption day coming up.

Then Eventually, Marco came to the time out zone and said he could help her escape.

So ~~Millie~~ Millie went to the adoption day and two parents came by and actually adopted her. And Millie got to live in a mansion!

In the mansion were silver chandeliers, red carpets rolled out and comfy King size beds.

Millie loved it and now had a happy family to live with.

This was now Millie's new life, and she was proud of it.

Once upon a time, there was a beautiful MerFairy called Marie.
She lived in a grimy, dingy, disgusting swamp with an Evil Fairy named Misty.

In the sickening swamp was, a revolting bath of sludgy, bubbling mud, small dried up mud bowls and heaps of crispy leaves. In the ugly 'home' was, hundreds of creepy bugs, loads of silver, slippery fish that Marie had sorrowfully caught for the unbelievable Misty and broken, crushed potion bottles with strange liquid spilling out. Also, there was a small stove made out of sticks with a mini cauldron underneath and, a storage box filled with nuts, fish, squirrel skin, parrot feathers and leaves.

Misty was hurtful and cruel to Marie and made her clean, fetch ingredients for her wicked potions, and spent hours washing and bathing her clothes.
One morning, Marie was woken to some earbleeding music and a bath of muddy, sticky goo. Misty demanded she set off with a dried up mud bowl and should quickly return with sea water. So, like Marie always did, she glowed down the hill with the bowl lightly clenched in her hands and landed on the smooth, silky sand and hurriedly collected up the sea water. Suddenly, a pretty mermaid rose out of the water, 'Oh my! You must be the lost mermaid Princess! May I take your hand?' She said, in a gentle voice and bowed. In a flash Marie was whisked into the water and transformed into a mermaid. She was led to a stunning priceless castle with giant walls, glowing treasures and a perfect pebble path. In less than a few seconds, two outstanding merpeople burst through the doors. They opened out their arms for a hug. With wide open eyes Marie realised her parents, the King and Queen!

She quickly responded with a tight hug and was quickly taken into a majestic, glistening, glowing castle that was so welcoming, she already felt at home. There was an intricate staircase that looked like it would go on forever and ever, piles of gold and diamonds, a humongous room just for her! There were infinite bouquets of ~~star~~ magnificent flowers, a bed with gems attached to it and a cute jewelry box full of beaming, pearly jewels. All round the castle was shiny statues making it look sage. Unfortunately, the evil fairy noticed she was gone and made a potion so she could breathe underwater and started searching for Marie. Eventually, she found Marie but, since her parents were the king and queen Mistry got easily sent away for eternity and Marie got two mermaids called Milo & Paddy and lived happily ever after!

Lilly's Life

Once upon a time there lived a girl called Lilly. Lilly lived with her twin sister, Poppy and her mum in Safety Hill.

Safety Hill had a little couch in the living room and a tiny tv with a lamp next to it. In Lilly and Poppy's bedroom was a pretty pink bed, a little blue box with lots and lots of toys and a tiny wardrobe filled to the brim with clothes.

One misty day, Lilly and Poppy's mum decided ~~th~~ that she didn't want Lilly and Poppy anymore and so ~~she~~ she left them on the dirty, yucky street.

Every night rats would come and eat some cloth that Lilly and Poppy slept on, mice would come in the morning and eat all of the edible

good and birds that skwarled every night and so Lilly and Poppy could not sleep.

Lilly and Poppy had been on the street now for a month and two mean twins sat next to them and teased all day and all night so that they couldn't stand sit there.

One sunny day, some parents came by with their children. One of the parents said very calmly, "oh, I wish we had more children."

"look" said the other parent "there are some children to get right hear."

"take me and my twin." skweaked
one of the mean twins quickly
"We are extremely kind and these girls are teasing us"
So that is just what the parents did.

Not to long after, they came back because the mean twins teased the other children. "We need to change these twins" whispered one of the two parents. Soon they walked past Lilly and Poppy and had no clue they were there.

One week after it was "Pick Up Street Children Day" where street children would get a home. Lilly and Poppy's old mum wasn't happy with this so she wrecked their room and took them home.

When Lilly came to her old home with Poppy they didn't like it there. It had a little & disvelished bed that not even Lilly could sit in into, a & flashing light that creaped Poppy and a creaking door that their mum had skradched the paint off of.

Daisy

Lilly and Poppy didn't like it there. They wanted to live in luxury. So Poppy told Lilly a plan. They would ask if they could do some gardening and when they were out in the garden they would escape. So that is just what they did.

Luckily there man didn't see them escape. She was more constricted on washing up.

When they were back in the street they sat down and waited and waited until... some parents came but not any parents no no it was the parents that had got the mean twins. In the end the parents brung them home.

The house was a mansion, their parents are millionaires. The mansion had chandeliers in every room, the bedrooms were hug with beautiful desines and a little pet dog.

Lilly and Poppy loved it their,
they loved dog and they had brothers and sissters. They always wanted a big family. They always wanted to be take care of extremely well. So Lilly and Poppy lived happily ever after.

David

Once upon a time there lived a boy called David. He lived in an attic room of a stage where someone sings. His owner was a horrible famous actor who made David make her fabulous dresses. David was very good at acting and wanted to be one but he knew that will never happen.

One day an invitation came to be a famous actor, so David said can I go. But he could not go. He wanted to go so he escaped with a friend called Bob. That night Bob and David left.

When they got there David saw flamboyant golden fluffy chairs glistening sweeping stage and bright lights. David smelt honey flavoured hand gel cause of covid he smelt glamorous perfume. He heard the cold play radio and he did not know what that was. In the end

David won the show and was very very famous and brought a big house.

While David was in luxury that famous singer was bored of any live things and had to do cleaning for the rest of her life.

The End.

Commander Karl

Once upon a time, there was a roman called Karl.

Karl was a rich roman in Caesars army. He lived in the hall of glory. The pictures gleamed in the sun-light, there was a delicate staircase that swirled around and around and glowing chandeliers hung from the ceiling. Out of the window you could see beautiful buildings that covered the city with beauty. Commander Karl was a wealthy roman with a magnificent house. He lived in the famous Pompeii on the inviting bays of Italy.

Now Commander Karl had got to the age of fifty and now couldn't go to the army, but Commander Karl loved the army and wanted to go back. All his emotions were such, he felt so upset he wanted to sneak out in disguise. Sooner or later he wanted to leave Italy but he couldn't leave his polished tables, humble servants, and his blooming bouquets of flowers. And most importantly he couldn't make republican Caesar MAD!

Karl had now seen his family walking streets of Pompeii. Karl talked to them and even his devilish dad said hi. When he went back to his colourful house..... HE was a MILLIONAIRE. He was the most glorious man in Pompeii. He improved his house, so it would shine more, HE made it so it was the most detailed house of all the LAND! Although he lived as a goal, he still missed the army. He could smell the ~~pure~~ pure lavender that covered the house, but still he was sad.

It was decided. Karl snuck off into the army in a ~~normal~~ normal roman costume as a disguise. He marched along the hard gritty ground, the smell of pongy animal poo filled his nose and could feel sharp thorns brushing along his sides. Commander Karl saved the wicked enemy and at the end of the serious battle he lost a leg. When he got back people judged him and found out he was Karl! He got kicked out of his mega house and was soon on the roads of Londinium. Horse poe consumed the street, rubbish ran across the dirty streets and whenever he sat down hurtful stones poked his backside.

Now he had been living on the streets for a few days and heard screams of innocent people it was.....
BOUDICCA!!! she was invading Londonium. Boudicca was the most dangerous celtic queen.

Karl could see patches and pools of disgusting stinking blood. Karl could see huge buildings burning down, messy bodies slat down the street and screams echoed around the alleyways.

A few hours later, Karl was about to get killed by a powerful, mean celtic soldier...
BUT the killer queen Boudicca

sheet 3 Harrison

came along and took me to the wonders of lush ~~britain~~ ^{britain}. Boudicca was nice to Commander Karl ~~after~~ although Boudicca didn't let him join the army. Boudicca led him to this wonderful house on the sunny beaches of the Iceni. This house had delicate pieces of furniture and soft hear carpets.

Karl was also allowed to go to the British government. Karl lived a restful life.
The end.

Maddie sprinted because it was the day she was leaving. She grabbed her suitcase and her Grandparents were busy with the television.

She got a taxi to drive her to the airport. There was a luxurious airport.

Maddie never had seen a place like this. She hopped outside and went inside.

It was amazing she almost wanted to go back but she went to the airplane.

After she arrived to Poland she was so happy she had to get another taxi.

Maddie's taxi was driving her to her Mum's house she was very happy.

Eds Life

Once upon a time there was a boy named Ed. He was behind bars and he didn't do anything wrong. He was in there because of his evil uncle. The cell had ripped blown seats, a collapsed bunk bed and a scratched door with 10,000 padlocks. Also, there was a Smashed T.V. Suddenly the T.V flickered on ~~on~~ the news was that all prisons should blow up. The uncle came into the ramshacked cell he shouted "I will not blow up this prison because i will have nowhere to work and i don't listen to the law!" So he slammed the door shut. Ed also wanted to go to school so he sneaked out the window. There it was to help him a ladder! He went down carefully he was hoping he wouldn't get caught again. Ed stopped. He forgot his black goo it was very useful. So Ed quickly got it and returned to the ladder and finally got down to the ground. Ed tried very very hard ~~not~~ to shout I'm freeee! Ed didn't.

He got into his uncles car but wasn't very good at driving so he crashed alot! After 3 hours he finally got got to the school. It was actually supposed to be 1 hour away but he crashed alot so he had to get the car fixed. the school was the most beautiful place ever!

It had lovely carpets, shiny windows and 10 big tables he asked the Headteacher if he could join she said "yes" and he lived happily

Many years ago there was a creepy Jungle.

Many of you think there ~~were~~ were no survivors but there were two.

An evil mutant and a boy called Tammam and they lived under a tree
and tammam loved climbing
trees and their lair
had crumbling walls,
moldy bed, rattling fridge.

One day tammam climbed a tree and found a boy called Dan being enslaved by a witch also they stole all of the mutants Money and booked a mansion in a really rich village village and became rich
and farmers with lots of decorations and gold houses and lots of ~~solder solder soldiers~~ Defence.

But the mutant put a tracking device on tammam
and tracked him down and he strode to the village and called the Dan's with Dan's ~~with~~
and they leemed up to capture the town
children.

So they slept in the

The lovely fairy

Sunny in the basement. Luckily Sunny built a passage passway from all the time she was in the manky basement so she escaped.

When Sunny arrived she got in her starting position.

Then..... The bell rang she flew with all her might she didn't stop she kept flying and flying.

They were announcing the winner and Sunny won. She couldn't believe it.

When Sunny arrived to Colerful Canyon she was amazed it was warm, cosy and stunning. It was perfect. But the magnificent staircase shocked her the most. While sunny's life turned perfect, Stormy was banned from the amazing city so she left and sunny was treated like royalty. Now there was chandeliers, bouquets of flowers, flamboyant beds and by Poppie

The Lorley fairy

Once upon a day dream there was a poor fairy called Sunny. She lived with an evil fairy called Stormy.

Sunny was forced to sleep in the basement. In the basement there was an old broken bed, an ancient moldy bed just lying there and rubbish chucked on the cold damp floor. It was horrible.

Unfortunately she was only allowed out of the basement to do her chores.

One day when Sunny was just coming home from washing the clothes a letter arrived from the king. It said:

I am offering a once in a lifetime opportunity so the winning prize is to live in Colourful Canyon.

Sunny was so excited she could burst but when Stormy saw it she forbid Sunny from going.

When the big day arrived Stormy locked glowing closets.

This was Sunny's new life.
